

2023 AWSS Patricia Herlihy Graduate Research Prize

Call for Nominations

The Association for Women in Slavic Studies is pleased to announce the call for nominations for the Patricia Herlihy Graduate Research Prize, awarded annually to fund promising graduate-level research in any field of Slavic/East European/Central Asian studies by a woman or on a topic in Women's or Gender Studies related to Slavic Studies/East Europe/Central Asia by a scholar of any gender.

The Prize is supported by a recent endowment established in the name of Dr. Patricia Herlihy by her colleagues, students, and family. Dr. Herlihy made incredible contributions to the study of Ukraine and supported and mentored generations of scholars across disciplines engaged in study on Ukraine and its neighbors.

Graduate students who are currently enrolled and at any stage of master's or doctoral level research are eligible. The award carries a cash prize of $1000.00 that may be used to support expenses related to completion of a thesis or dissertation, as well as travel, services, and/or materials. Nominations and self-nominations are welcome. Recipients must be members of AWSS; if not current AWSS members, they must join AWSS as condition of the award. Winning recipients should submit a report on their use of the funds to the Committee Chair by August of the year following the receipt of the award.

A completed application consists of:

- 1) a 2-3 page proposal that explains the project, how the funds will be used, and why this funding is necessary for continued progress on the project;
- 2) a current curriculum vitae;
- 3) a detailed budget and timeline; and 4) two letters of recommendation.

Please submit application materials in MSWord or PDF and send them by email attachment to the Herlihy Prize Committee Chair. Letters of recommendation should also be sent directly to the Chair, as well as any questions regarding the prize: Laurie.Stoff@asu.edu.

Deadline: Applications must be complete by September 1, 2023 to be considered for the award.
